Preacher in Tribute to Womanhood

"As the World Turns", a current TV serial portrayal of the problems of womanhood, their disappointments, their sorrows, their heartaches and their dis-
pairs, were linked to the women of ancient times by Evangelist Angel Martinez last night before another large crowd at First Baptist Church.

His sermon was shorter than usual, but the decisions for Christ were greater as 34 persons responded to the invitation, bringing the total to date to 71 decisions for Christ.

As the campaign reached the half-way mark, the outpouring of people is expected to reach the highest peak tonight when the evangelist delivers a sermon on his own personal conversion experience.

Seating capacity at the church is 1,000—but another 100 may be accommodated by chair arrangements in the lobby.

"Beyond the Sunset" is the Friday night topic, and he will explore the possibilities of whether Christians will know and recognize each other in heaven as they did on earth, and whether we will be united with our families, the ones who get there.

His text last night was taken from the first chapter of St.
John. He quoted the gospel: "All things were made by Him; and without Him was not any thing made that was made." In effect, he declared:

"God made man first, woman second. Woman is the highest peak of God's wonderful creation. Through woman, God sent us a Savior, a redeemer.

The Bible says that all have sinned and have come short of the glory of God. That puts all of us in the same category. No one is perfect. Man sinned first. Because of man's sinful nature, God wanted to eliminate sin from his son Jesus. . . and that's why the miraculous, supernatural and wonderful birth of Jesus to the peasant girl—the Virgin Mary.

Services will continue nightly
at 7:30 through Sunday night.
Morning services at 10 a.m. thru Friday.

Arkansas Group Seeks Ideas

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP) — A 24-person delegation from Sharp County, Ark., attempted to learn something about Gat-linburg's multi-million dollar tourist business Wednesday by touring the Great Smoky Mountain National Park area.

The delegation represented several groups in the county.

The group hoped to get ideas on how to attract tourists. Leo Rainey of Batesville, an area extension agent, headed the delegation.

Years Needed
to Rebuild
Arab Relations

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S.
officials say it may take years to rebuild relations with the Arab states after the Israeli-Arab war.

How to handle this task is one problem facing President Johnson's new Cabinet-level committee on the Middle East, to which the President has assigned the over-all job of mapping plans for a permanent peace between the Arab states and Israel.

Johnson created the committee Wednesday, disclosing he had called back McGeorge Bundy, his former special assistant, from private life to serve as executive secretary of the group. Secretary of State Dean Rusk is chairman.

In announcing the committee's formation, Johnson said the crisis and "the effort to build a new peace will require the most careful coordination of the work of our government."

As he spoke, the State Department was reporting efforts to maintain some type of official contact with the Arab nations despite diplomatic breaks in relations by some.

The President, it is understood, intends to channel long-range U.S. peace efforts through the United Nations where the search for ways to end the flash conflict has centered this week. One evident purpose of his strategy is to aim for U.S. and Soviet cooperation.

Administration officials believe, for example, that prospects for permanent peace would be strengthened greatly by a ceiling on arms shipments into the area in future years.

The Soviet Union has been a primary supplier of military equipment for Egypt and Syria.
During the past two days seven Arab countries, generally alleging U.S. military support for Israel in spite of strong U.S. denials, have broken relations with Washington. An eighth

Extension
of Draft,
No Lottery

By ROBERT T. GRAY
WASHINGTON (AP) — A
compromise draft extension bill, including a provision that would strip the President of his power to order a lottery induction system, appears headed for prompt congressional approval.

Final action on the measure, which would extend the draft law four years beyond the scheduled June 30 expiration date, could come by early next week.

House-Senate conferees resolved differences Wednesday in separate measures passed by the two branches.

The compromise version was returned to both houses for final action.

The legislation provides for continuing present deferments for college undergraduates and does not change the President's authority, which he says he'll use, to reverse the present induction order and call up 19-year-olds first.

The President has blamed student deferments for draft inequities and urged they be tightened. But he did not recommend specific changes.

Johnson also said in a message to Congress early this year that he would direct establishment of a system of selecting draftees at random by Jan. 1, 1969.

country, Lebanon, made a partial break Wednesday by forcing withdrawal of ambassadors.
The seven which broke completely are Egypt, Algeria, Syria, Yemen, Sudan, Iraq and Mauritania.

The diplomatic ruptures were fully in evidence along Washington's Embassy Row, with Arab envoys turning in their credentials and preparing to leave.
The names of the Arab diplomats already have been stricken from the State Department's protocol list.

The evacuation of Americans from the war zone by land, sea and air also continued. Envoys prepared to abandon embassies that have been the targets of mobs since the fighting started.

In addition to the formal breaks, U.S. relations with other Arab countries are believed here to have been embittered to some degree by U.S. diplomatic support of Israel in the events leading up to Monday's outbreak of war.

The United States along with Britain and many other countries supported Israel's opposition to the Egyptian blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, the critical issue before the war started.

Gunpowder was first employed in battle in 1346.

Drag River for Body of Youth

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock Fire Department will begin dragging the Arkansas River today for a Little Rock youth who apparently drowned Wednesday night while swimming in the river.

Officers identified the boy as Michael Ray Newsome, 14.
Newsome was reportedly swimming with two other boys in the river. His two companions reported seeing him go under and not come up.

A spokesman for the Fire Department said the department could not start dragging operations until it was daylight.

Israel Forces
May Be Spread
A Bit Thin

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S.
military analysts say Israeli army supply lines might be dangerously overextended if its armored columns push across the Suez Canal and deeper into Egypt.

Although Israeli spearheads may extend 180 miles from the Israeli border, analysts here do not consider supply and communication links strained or exposed.

But U.S. experts said Israeli tank and infantry brigades must stop soon to mop up remnants of the Egyptian army believed scattered behind them all across the rugged, arid Sinai.

This cleaning up is essential to secure an uninterrupted flow of gasoline, oil, ammunition, drinking water and food to forward combat elements.

Israeli columns hurtled toward the Suez Canal along a few paved roads and many rough desert tracks.

Following behind the tanks, armored infantry halftracks and self-propelled artillery after the way is clear are convoys of trucks — many of them civilian vehicles driven by their army reservist owners. They bear the stuff to feed and power the advancing columns.

Israeli doctrine features fast-moving offense as the basic tactic from the outset of the war, and the supply units are organized to keep pace.

American officers said it would be risky for the Israelis to carry their offensive across the Suez Canal and deep into Egypt.

They noted that, unlike the sparsely populated Sinai, the routes leading to Cairo pass through increasingly populous country.

In such a hostile populated area, the Israelis would have to leave behind forces to guard their ever-lengthening lines of communication and supply.

They also would have to pos-

House Balks
at Raising Debt Ceiling

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — House
Republicans, joined by conservative Southern Democrats and a sprinkling of antiwar liberals, dealt President Johnson a surprise defeat in rejecting his bid to raise the national debt ceiling $29 billion.

The unique coalition voted 210 to 197 Wednesday against the proposed largest debt increase since World War II and forced the administration to come up with a new, probably cut-down plan or face a government bill-paying crisis after June 30.

The victory was doubly sweet for Republicans who called in debate for a vote of no confidence in Johnson's fiscal policies and denounced what they called false budget figures.

"We don't believe the President's figures," said Rep.
Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo. "I don't see any reason why we should. They're false on the revenue estimates and false on the expenditure estimates."

GOP spokesmen argued that defeat of the debt ceiling measure could force the administration to revise its budget and cut domestic spending.

The defeat stunned Democratic leaders, who had felt the Vietnam war and the Middle East crisis would inspire adequate bipartisan backing for Johnson's money plans.

tion forces to defend their bridgehead across the canal or the Gulf of Suez, and this would weaken spearhead elements in the face of probable stiffening resistance.

Cairo can be reached from two directions on fairly good roads — one extending about 130 miles from the head of the Gulf of Suez and the other about 140 miles from Ismailia, an Egyptian city astride the canal.

A move to Cairo would nearly double the distance supplies would have to travel from the Israeli border to advance combat units.

The Israelis have been credited with one enormous advantage — air superiority which will spare their supply columns from strafing or bombing.

U.S. military authorities said supply links to Israeli forces at the southern tip of the Sinai Peninsula well over 100 miles from Elath, on the Gulf of Aq-aba, are probably secure already.

Egyptian forces are reported to have pulled back from that sector toward the other side of the Suez Canal.

Slavery was abolished in the British colonies in 1838.

Vote Machines

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Voting machines, which were approved by Jefferson County voters in the November general election, have been ordered it was announced Wednesday.

County Judge Joe T. Henslee said he has ordered 100 voting machines and some of them will probably be available for use in Pine Bluff's July 11 referendum election on the establishment of a housing authority.

The county quorum court has appropriated $10,000 for purchase of the machines. Pine Bluff Mayor Austin Franks is to meet with Henslee this week to discuss the cost of the machines.

The machines were purchased from Automatic Voting Machine Co. of Jamestown, N. Y., under a 10-year lease-purchase agreement.

Legislative Acts
Being Printed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said Wednesday volumes containing the acts of a legislative session are usually ready by Sept. 1 but they will be later this year because of the recess during the 1967 General Assembly.

Bryant said he hoped to have the acts to the Paragon Printing Co. of Little Rock late this
week.

Bryant said only appropriation acts will be contained in one volume of a two-volume set while the other volume will include general acts. Previously, acts were printed in order as signed into law by the governor.

The legislature appropriated $42,000 to have the 1967 acts printed.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. LOYD RAY SWOPE

First Methodist Church Chapel was the setting for the wedding at 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 7, of Miss Carole Coop and Loyd Ray Swope of Fayetteville. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Merlin Coop, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ray Swope. Grandparents of the bride are the late Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Griffin Coop of Hope. Mr. Swope is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Stringfield of Elkins and the late Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Swope of Elkins.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white silk suit with matching accessories. She carried a white Bible on which was tied a white orchid. Miss Roberta Johnson of Texarkana, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of blue lace and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Stanley Swope of Fayetteville, brother of the groom, was the best man. Jack Edgar Coop, brother of the bride, served as usher.

Nuptial vows were said before an arch of greenery which was flanked by floor baskets of double white stock and gladioli. The Lord's Prayer was played softly while the couple knelt.

The bride attended Hendrix College and received her B. A. degree in psychology from the University of Arkansas where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She received her master of social work degree from Tulane University. Mr. Swope received his B. S. degree from the University of Arkansas.

After a wedding trip to points in Colorado, the couple will be at home in Fayetteville where the groom is associated with the First National Bank.

McGlothlin Hurls Third Shutout

Now, if only it doesn't rain on Jim McGlothlin's parade.

McGlothlin, who seems to labor with a constant cloud over his head, has brought a ray of sunshine into the last place existence of the California Angels this season.

The young right-hander hurled his third straight shutout Wednesday night, running his season's record to 6-1 with a 2-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. The blanketing extended his string to 33 runless innings and lowered his earned run average to 1.07.

There were only three other games played in the American League Wednesday. New York and Washington split a two-night doubleheader, the Yankees taking the opener 7-1 and the Senators copping the second game 2-1. Kansas City defeated Detroit 4-2. Boston's doubleheader at Chicago and Cleveland's game at Minnesota were rained out.

In the National League, Houston hammered St. Louis 17-1, San Francisco nipped Cincinnati 4-3, Atlanta walloped Los Angeles 13-5, Pittsburgh blanked New York 3-0 and Chicago topped Philadelphia 3-1.

McGlothlin has allowed just one earned run in the last 49 2-3 innings he has worked and his only problem has been work—rather the lack of it. The early season rash of rainouts deprived him of several starts but that's nothing new for McGlothlin.

"I don't know what this power of mine is," moaned McGlothlin, while watching a storm wash out one of his early starts. "This is always happening to me."

"Back in 1963, I was going to be the opening day pitcher for Hawaii. It poured for four days."

The Angels got McGlothlin an unearned run off loser Pete Richter in the first inning and the youngster made it stand up against the Orioles, who had scored 27 runs against California in a doubleheader the day before.

Jim Fregosi drove in an insurance run with an eighth inning single but McGlothlin, who allowed four hits and struck out nine, didn't need it.

Fred Talbot hurled a six-hitter for the Yankees in the opener against Washington. New York scored four runs in the second inning—two of them on bases loaded walks to Mickey Mantle and Ruben Amaro.

In the eighth, Bill Monbouquette, making his first start for the Yankees, was nicked for single runs in the first and third innings and Phil Ortega, with late inning help from Dave Baldwin and Darold Knowles, protected them for the victory.

Doubles by Ed Brinkman and Fred Valentine produced Washington's first run and then Bob Saverine's double followed by an infield out and Cap Peterson's sacrifice fly brought home another in the third.

Ortega was sailing along on a two-hit shutout until the eighth when two-out singles by Mike Hegan, Mantle and Clark gave the Yankees a run. Baldwin retired Amaro to escape the inning and then Knowles set New York down in the ninth.

Rick Monday slashed a two-run inside-the-park homer, giving the Athletics their victory over Detroit and tagging Mickey Lolich, 5-7, with his fifth straight loss.

Monday's shot snapped a 1-1 tie in the sixth after Bert Campaneris had walked, Paul Lindblad, a reliever, made his first start of the season for the A's and ran his record to 4-0.

NHL Owners Had Deals Before Draft

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's summer Atlanta walloped Los Angeles 13-5 and Houston trounced St. faster than an Expo 67 ticket Tuesday's unprecedented ex- and the Cleveland at Minnesota pansion draft.

Los Angeles Kings and his McCovey, who also was fanned would-be coach, Red Kelly.

Cooke and Kelly have charged the Toronto Maple Leafs re- neged on a deal to slip the 39- year-old forward through the draft and into the Kings' camp. Wednesday they filed formal protests with NHL President Pinch hitter Jim Davenport Clarence Campbell, who passed walked and, after Alou, who got the complaints on to the Toronto four hits off Nolan, lined out, both runners advanced on a wild pitch.

There was a possibility the hassle would be resolved before the end of today's closing ses- sion. The meetings opened Monday with the formal admission of the six newcomers — Los Angeles, California, St. Louis, Minnesota, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

The California Seals who picked Toronto defensemen Bobby Baun and Kent Douglas on the first two rounds after making Charlie Hodge of Mon- treat their top goalie choice, generally were considered the big winners in the draft. Phila- delphia rated a close second, according to most observers.

Minnesota also received a high grade after landing three Montreal prospects — Andre Boudrias, Bob Charlebois and Mike McMahon — in a post- draft transaction. The deal ap- parently was consummated when the North Stars, picking first in the regular draft, chose Dave Balon from Montreal and gave the Canadiens the quick recall of Claude Larose, whom they had exposed.

McCovey's Hit Wins for Giants

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Willie won't soon forget Gary Nolan, and Nolan will long re- member Willie.

Willie Mays will remember the 12 pitches Nolan threw past him Wednesday night as chief victim of the young Cincinnati right-hander's 15-strikeout per- formance.

Nolan will remember Willie McCovey for the one pitch he didn't throw past the San Fran- cisco first baseman—McCovey hit it out of the park for a three- run homer to tie the game, which the Giants won 4-3 by scoring in the ninth inning off Bob Lee, who relieved Nolan after the one pitch.

"It was a good pitch I made to McCovey," the disconsolate 19-year-old rookie said. "I thought he would either pop it up or hit a grounder. It was just one of those things."

THE DANGER FACING BASEBALL

WIDE OPEN SPACES prevail during this game in Chicago's Wrigley Field. Are the majors headed for the same fate as the minor leagues, where attendance continues to dwindle?

Rodgers to Defend Buick Open Title

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Writer
GRAND BLANC, Mich., (AP) — Buick Open defending cham- pion Phil Rodgers was hopeful today that a friendly monster would make his golfing game a well known.

The stocky, 29-year-old Cali- fornian led a field of 144—minus the glamor of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player — in a four-day assault on long- playing Warwick Hills Country Club.

Often referred to by the pros as "The Monster," Warwick Hills remains one of the tough- est challenges on the PGA tour, and virtually all the pros learned it the hard way Wednes- day in a pro-am tuneup.

The 7,280-yard course was chopped to 7,126 this year, but the addition of 33 traps and sev- eral clusters of small trees sent the pros to the clubhouse talking to themselves.

"Those greens on the back nine are real rough," said veter- an Sam Snead, unhappy with his back nine although he picked up three birdies coming on his tuneup round.

Rodgers parlayed a red hot putter into $68,000 in prize money on last season's PGA tour, including a $20,000 top money in the Buick Tournament. He has had nothing but troubles this year.

His earnings to date for 1967's tour totaled $9,600.
The field which set out after the $100,000 prize money was minus not only the Palmer-Player-Nicklaus trio, but also Masters champion Gay Brewer.

All were reported tuning up for the national Open next week. Tournament officials con- ceded that the condition of the course in the mid-year of a three-year renovation program was not the most attractive on the PGA tour this year.

Veteran Johnny Pott, who has played in all 10 Buick Opens picking up $30,000, conceded that the course "is a little rough in spots, but is in real good shape if you consider the extent of the building program that has been going on here."

Former Buick champion Juli- us Boros seconded Snead's opin- ion that the greens on the back side were a bit rough. Most of the greens were relocated and rebuilt this year.

The par 72 course, especially suitable for long drivers, also attracted former Buick Open champion Mike Souchak and Bill Collins, neither of whom has been at the top of their game this season.

Adamson, who failed to sign when the Philadelphia Phillies drafted him previously, was the No. 1 pick by the Baltimore Ori- oles in the secondary phase of the two-day selection meetings of the major leagues.

Blomberg, an 18-year-old slugger from Atlanta's Druid Hills High School, was the No 1 pick by the New York Yankees among the record 975 new pros- pects selected in the regular phase of the draft.

Problem in Mid East Will Go on and on

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP, Special Correspondent
Until the problem of the Arab refugees from Israel is solved, the Middle East will remain politically explosive and a danger to world peace. But the problem seems utterly insoluble.

For almost 20 years, a quest for a solution has been going on.
Neutrals close to Middle East problems saw three basic ways to approach the problem of establishing stability.

One was to seek a method to resettle the refugees. It failed.
Another was to seek political settlement between Israel and the Arab nations so some refugees could return to their former homes. It failed. The third way was war. It, too, has failed so far — with the Arabs not strong enough to accomplish a solution by means of battle.

The slogan uniting all Arabs against Israel is a cry for "liberating the Arab homeland."
Its emotional appeal, far from abating over two decades, has become stronger all the time as parent passes the word to child.
The problem was created at the outset of the Palestine war of 1948-49, when Jewish troops, storming through Arab villages, expelled the inhabitants and sent them fleeing behind the protection of Arab lines.

Hundreds of thousands were displaced this way. Nobody knows the exact figure. Over the years their number has grown by the natural process.
Today, by best estimates, perhaps a few more than a million persons claim the status of refugees.

They have lived in slums in the outskirts of cities in Lebanon, Syria and Jordan and in the Gaza Strip which Egypt occupied on Israel's southwest Mediterranean coast after the war. They were a constant source of political ferment, an easy prey to pan-Arab agitation stirred up by the followers of Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser.
Only some of the families who fled before the Israeli troops eventually wound up in other Arab countries. Most clung tenaciously to their status as refugees. They said that to do otherwise would be to imply forfeiting their right to return to their former homes.

For the little kingdom of Jordan, they became a grave problem. Palestinians feel themselves superior, intellectually and otherwise, to the Bedouins who hail from the east side of the Jordan River and who made up the tiny never-never land of Transjordan before 1950.

In that year, Transjordan's King Abdullah annexed Palestine territory on the west side of the river fronting on Israel. By doing so he tripled the country's population and left a source of constant headache for the future king of Jordan.

In the capital, Amman, refugees were crowded into the Ma-

hjarin Souk, a hotbed of riot, most of them hating the king.
Only a third of Jordan's refugees lived in camps. Others lived in tin shacks, rock huts, some in no homes at all, just carrying about their worldly goods in boxes, sleeping and eating wherever they could. The Jordanian government could not ignore them. It gave them a vote, places in the Cabinet and in the legislature.

MORE S.O.S. VOTES
Dear Readers: Another column of comments against "steading" --H.

Dear Helen: Hooray!! It's about time somebody took a stand on "Stamp Out Steading." I agree it's gotten out of hand. It's so bad at my school that I have to hire a private eye to find out whether or not I can ask a girl. Absolutely ridiculous. I'm available for vice-president if you need one for the SOS club. --DAVE

Dear Helen: Your timely item on S.O.S. hit this family with a POW.
Recently our 16-year-old daughter, her young friends, my husband and I held a three-hour discussion about the "steady" business, which may be some sort of a record for teens and a couple of parents.

The girls were heartsick about the steady problem. Their sentiments echoed those of the letter you published. They'd all love to date "many" of the nice guys (I believe they call them tuff, cool, swingers), but when our daughter started to do this last fall and winter, she earned the hideous reputation of being "fickle."

You know the youngsters seem fed up to here with the Steady Situation, but don't have quite the courage to break it alone. We're all so glad you may have given them the impetus, for truly they don't know what they're missing when they don't "play the entirely, but, of course, this didn't work. Now the kids are saying I'm scatterbrained because I can't decide which boy I want. They're right about the last. At my age I don't want just ONE boy. It's too big a challenge to miss, getting to be friends with many fellows. --FOLLOWER of S.O.S.

Dear Helen: Going steady is for girls who like to sit around and wait for guys who are out enjoying themselves. It's fine to like a boy, but what's wrong with liking 15 other boys? --ALL FOR S.O.S.

Dear Helen: To Stamp Out Steading, why don't schools conduct computer dating with each boy going out with a different girl every week for six weeks? Maybe they should make it Dutch Treat. But that time, the kids would all get to know each other, there'd be more mixing, but less match-making. --FROM D.B. HI

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU.

Charges Korean Election Rigged

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — The Christian Democratic party of Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger increased its share of the lower Saxony vote in state parliament elections Sunday from 37.7 to 41.7 per cent.

Lower Saxony's traditional leader, the Social Democrats, slipped from the 44.9 per cent they won four years ago to 43.1 per cent. The Nazi-line National Democratic party got 7 per cent of the vote and won its first 10 seats in the 149-member Landstag.

The National Democrats, denounced as anti-Semitic and antidemocratic by the federal government, now have won legislative seats in six of the 10 West German states.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The opposition Shinmin party today seized on an increase in one month of 780,000 eligible voters as evidence to support charges that the government is rigging the parliamentary elections Thursday.

It's High Time Someone Gave a Sharp Answer

Arkansas Wilbur Mills, chairman of Congress' all-powerful Ways & Means Committee, takes it as a personal blow that the House on Wednesday rejected his committee's recommendation to increase the federal debt limit to $365 billion.

The defeat came on a proposal to raise the permanent limit, which currently is $285 billion. Of course the actual governmental debt is far above this latter figure, but Congress had legalized the excess by establishing a temporary ceiling of $365 billion.

Now the federal debt is bumping even this astronomical figure, and when Mills and his fellow Ways & Means Committee members suggested the remedy was to wipe out all pretense and boldly raise the permanent ceiling to $365 billion the House revolted and beat him 210 to 197.

Your editor has the utmost respect for Mr. Mills, a conservative Arkansas Democrat, but by virtue of his chairmanship of the most powerful committee in either house of Congress he is bound to be influenced at times by the fruitless demands of the spendthrift Johnson administration. Mills' rebuff Wednesday was not unexpected. As United Press International reported in this morning's papers:

"In recent years Congress has voted annually to raise the temporary ceiling, but each year the votes have been getting closer."

And so Wednesday the House finally said "No"—and high time, indeed. Our country's beggarly government has been going into the hole ever since the end of World War II, increasing its wartime debt by 50 percent in times of peace and prosperity.

Ignorant folks profess to think this is some remote and isolated event which won't affect them. But the average American citizen isn't that stupid. He knows, that, whether it be Government or Private Citizen, if you keep constantly borrowing money and never paying it back both you and your creditors will come to no good end.

The improvident citizen who scatters bad checks all over town isn't slow about signing new ones each day. But naturally—for him it's no skin off his check-writing hand. The rub comes for those who do business with him.

Everyone does business with the Government every day. And there is increasing evidence that the people are becoming exasperated by its mismanagement. When Government is free-handed with checks and public debt then prices rise, private payrolls shrink, and distrust sets in.

The only remedy the private citizen has is to beat free-spenders at the polls. Congress knows this. Mr. Johnson's party lost 47 seats to the Republicans last November. And to avoid further disaster the remaining Congressmen took heed and rejected that $365-billion debt ceiling proposal on Wednesday.

214 Killed in Week in Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. casualties in Vietnam dropped last week, reflecting a slowdown in the heavy fighting of recent weeks along the demilitarized zone and in the central highlands. Casualty tolls for South Vietnamese and enemy forces were higher than the previous week, however.

The U.S. Command said Thursday that 214 Americans were killed in action, 1,101 were wounded and one was missing or captured.

A week earlier the U.S. totals were 313 killed, 2,616 wounded and 13 missing—the highest combined American casualty toll of any week in the war.

Vietnamese military headquarters said 235 of its troops were killed last week and 55 were missing or captured. The Vietnamese do not report the number of their wounded. The week before there were 212 killed and 34 missing or captured.

The U.S. Command said 2,420 enemy were killed last week, compared with 2,209 in the previous week.

Secret Red Missile Base Is Bombed

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Navy carrier pilots thrust deep into North Vietnam Wednesday to damage a major MIG airfield and leave a secret Red missile base a cauldron of flames and uncontrollable rockets snaking skyward and across the ground.

The U.S. Command also reported increased ground action after a four-day lull in the war in the South. There were two sharp fights near the demilitarized zone, another near Saigon and a handful of guerrilla raids including the destruction of a 200-foot bridge 10 miles from Saigon.

The weekly casualty report from the U.S. Command hit a six-week low for American losses but both South Vietnamese and enemy losses increased over the week before. The command said 214 Americans and 2,420 Communists were killed in action last week, while the South Vietnamese reported 235 of their troops killed.

The big raid on the secret site housing Soviet-built missiles was made by pilots from the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise after aerial photos disclosed the highly camouflaged base hidden in a forest 50 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Waves of Phantom, Skyhawk and Intruder jets flashed into the area with bombs, rockets and cannon fire. Pilots reported the site erupted in explosions of white, orange and black smoke towering 5,000 feet up.

The narrow 40-foot missiles which pilots call "flying telephone poles" sometimes went slithering off violently when blown from their transport vehicles.

"One jumped into an open area, slithered around, then blew up," one pilot said.

Other pilots' reports read: "They were burning and slithering around on the ground. Great big SAMs curling all over the place. Our bombs set off one SAM in a big puff of orange smoke and it went whistling off into the woods."

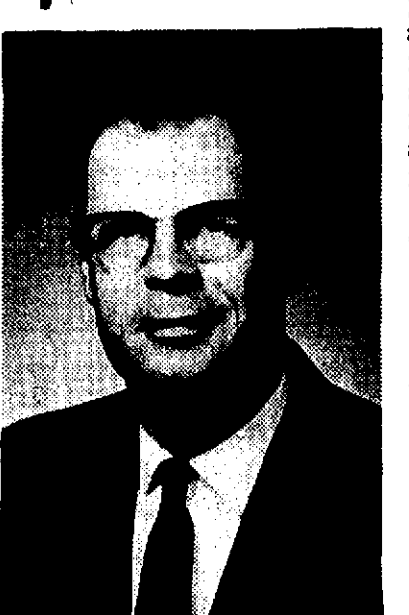

The Navy reported at least nine of the big carriers for the missiles were destroyed and each one was loaded. One radar van was also destroyed.

Cease-fire Prevails Along Jordan Front; Egypt Offers Resistance in Some Areas

UN Council Hopes for Cease-fire

By CHARLES STOPER
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Members of the U.N. Security Council awaited a summons back into session today to check on Arab and Israeli compliance with its cease-fire resolutions and consider further steps to stop the fighting in the Middle East.

Diplomats said a morning meeting was likely.

At the insistence of Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko, the council unanimously backed up its original cease-fire appeal of Tuesday night with a demand that the warring governments cease all military activities at 4 p.m. EDT Wednesday.

Both the Soviet resolution and the appeal Tuesday night received the unanimous support of the council.

Israel informed the U.N. Wednesday night that a cease-fire with Jordan had gone into effect at the specified deadline. But an Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo, asked about the new truce call, declared: "Egypt will fight on."

The council also had on today's agenda a Canadian proposal that the council ask its president, Ambassador Hans R. Harbo of Denmark, "with the assistance of the U.N. secretary-general, to take the necessary measures to bring about full and effective compliance with these resolutions."

Some diplomats considered the resolution an attempt to reduce the role of Secretary-General U Thant in the crisis. But Canadian Ambassador George Ignatieff denied this. He said it was designed solely to give someone the authority to take steps to implement the cease-fire resolutions, which he said those resolutions failed to do.

Fedorenko told the council Wednesday that the "forces of aggression" — a reference to Israel — were "paying no heed" to the earlier call for an immediate cease-fire. This, he warned, "may create an even more menacing situation in the area."

Instructor Can Legally Sue Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal Judge Oren Harris ruled Wednesday that H. Brant Davis, who is seeking $25,000 damages and reinstatement as speech instructor at Arkansas A&M College at Monticello, can legally sue the institution's Board of Trustees.

Attorneys for the board filed a motion to dismiss Davis' suit on the contention that the suit failed to state a claim upon which relief could be granted and that the Board of Trustees could not be sued.

Judge Harris said the institution's Board of Trustees qualifies as a corporate body under Arkansas law and that it could be sued. He also said Davis' claim that the dismissal violated the rights of free speech and due process of law was sufficient grounds for a federal court case.

Davis was dismissed Oct. 31, 1965, after four months of employment.

He said the Board of Trustees dismissed him without giving him a reason and that the board refused his request for a hearing.

Israel Planes Scored Knockout of Egypt's Craft in Few Hours

By HANS BENEDICT
TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) —

Raiders that caught Egypt's air force on the ground and superior planes and pilots helped Israel's outnumbered air force score a knockout blow in the first hours of the Arab-Israeli war.

This was the evaluation given Wednesday night by an authoritative source after the Israeli air force chief, Gen. Mordechai Hod, announced his force destroyed 441 enemy planes.

Strategy was said to have been based on a quick decision Monday morning to paralyze the Egyptian air force — biggest in the Middle East — while most of its planes were sitting ducks on the ground.

According to the source, waves of Egyptian planes showed up on Israeli radar screens and sent Israeli pilots scrambling.

After a flurry of dogfights in the border area, the Egyptians beat a retreat. But instead of returning to their bases as they did in the past, the Israelis pursued the Egyptians to their bases and scored further hits as the enemy planes went in to land.

A second wave of Israeli fighters swooped in to catch the Egyptians on the ground as they were refueling or preparing to take off, the most vulnerable moments.

Another element in the victory was the flight endurance of Israel's French Mystere and Mirage fighters which the source said gave them a clear advantage over the Soviet MIGs that made up the Egyptian, Syrian and Iraqi air forces.

Most of the Jordanian planes — Hawker Hunter fighters from Britain — were said to have been downed in dogfights.

The numerical strength of the Israeli air force is a military secret. Before the war broke out, American experts estimated the number of combat planes at 270, only 65 more than the Arabs claim to have destroyed. The only losses announced by Israel were 19 planes on Monday.

Another decisive factor, the source said, was the superior training of Israel's pilots, who according to Gen. Hod average 23 in age.

The early initiative soon freed the Israeli forces from air combat and it switched to support of the ground troops advancing into the Sinai Peninsula.

Israel Says Nasser Force Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Egyptian forces threw up stiff resistance to Israeli troops in the western Sinai Desert today, but a cease-fire prevailed on the Jordanian front. The Israelis said they had seized all of Palestine west of the Jordan River and the Dead Sea, extending their boundary to that of pre-1948 Palestine.

Although the Israelis accepted Jordan's offer of a cease-fire, Egypt vowed to fight on despite a second truce call from the U.N. Security Council.

An Israeli army spokesman said Egyptian and Israeli infantry units were still fighting at Bir Gif Gafa, about 45 miles east of the Suez Canal on the central highway through Sinai. He reported the Israelis were also meeting tough resistance at the Mitla Pass, just east of the city of Suez and the southern end of the canal.

The Israeli government announced its forces had taken over Jordan's Hebron Hills south of Jerusalem and reached the "Dead Sea. Earlier they had reported capture of the Jordanian bulge north of Jerusalem and west of the Jordan River. But Old Jerusalem, despite its capture Wednesday, was still out of bounds to all civilians because some isolated pockets of snipers remained, and some sniping also was reported on the road from Jerusalem to Bethlehem.

Israeli forces held key points in vast stretches of Egypt's Sinai Desert including eastern approaches to the Suez Canal and Israel's main objective: Sharm el Sheikh overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba. But an Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv categorically denied that any Israeli troops were on the banks of the canal despite a report from Israel's delegation to the U.N. Wednesday night that Israeli troops had entered Ismailia, at the midpoint of the canal.

Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, the Israeli defense minister, told newsmen Wednesday: "It is not and was not our aim to get to the Suez Canal. Why go there and get involved in something that is not our business?"

Apparently digging in for the protracted negotiations that are certain to follow the end of the fighting, the Israeli government named Brig. Gen. Haim Herzog commander of its troops in the area taken from Jordan and Gen. Moshe Goren to command the Gaza Strip and the northern Sinai Peninsula.

Gen. Dayan told newsmen Israel would not give up any part of Jerusalem and would maintain its right of passage through the Gulf of Aqaba, its route to East Africa, Asia and the oil it gets from Iran.

The U.N. Security Council met in New York and passed a second cease-fire resolution, calling for a halt in fighting by 4 p.m. EDT Wednesday. Israel announced its willingness to stop fighting if the Arabs also stopped. Late Wednesday night Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban notified the Security Council that a truce with Jordan had taken effect at the deadline set by the council.

But Jordan was the only Arab belligerent to break ranks. A senior Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo declared: "Egypt will fight on." Algiers Radio, ignoring Jordan's action, said all the Arab countries involved in the fight had refused to accept the cease-fire and still had faith in victory. Iraq also rejected the U.N. truce call.

Johnson Got Boost in Rail Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Middle East crisis appears to have given the Johnson administration the boost it needed to assure congressional approval of legislation to head off a nationwide rail strike.

Some House critics of the President's proposal conceded privately that the fighting between Israel and the Arab states has all but doomed their efforts to revise or block the legislation.

The Senate approved the bill 70 to 15 Wednesday and the House Commerce Committee takes it up today.

Congress has until June 19 to prevent a nationwide strike by some 137,000 shopcraft workers. On that date, a current Congress-ordered 47-day no strike-no lockout period runs out.

Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., said his House Commerce Committee will meet again Friday if no decision is reached today in order to ready the measure for consideration on the floor next Wednesday.

Administration officials have stressed the Middle East conflict this week in urging action to prevent a rail strike.

They told the Commerce Committee Tuesday and congressional leaders at the White House Wednesday that the new uncertainty — added to the war in Vietnam — makes the railroads even more essential for the nation's defense.

The major critics are Democrats who feel the presidential plan — including settlement if necessary — is unfair to labor and will mean the railroads will refuse to negotiate since they know the workers can't strike.

Reps. Brock Adams, D-Wash., John E. Moss, D-Calif., and John D. Dingell, D-Mich., plan to offer a substitute proposal that would require the President to seize the railroads during the compulsory settlement period.

Mrs. Swindle Leaves for England

PARAGOUL, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Valerie Swindle, who was awarded custody of her 5-year-old daughter Monday by the Arkansas Supreme Court, left Arkansas Wednesday with the girl.

Maurice Cathey of Paragould, Mrs. Swindle's attorney, said the mother and daughter left for Memphis on their way back to Cheltenham, England. Mrs. Swindle's home is in Cheltenham.

Gerald Swindle, the father of Sharon, spirited the girl from England in 1965. Mrs. Swindle has been in Arkansas since late 1965 trying to regain custody of Sharon.

The Supreme Court's ruling upheld a Greene Chancery County decision. Mrs. Swindle was awarded custody of the girl on three separate occasions prior to the Supreme Court's decision.

She was best known as a member of the "vicious circle," a group of New Yorkers of the nineteen twenties and thirties who met almost every day for long lunches at the "round table" of the Algonquin Hotel. Others were Robert Benchley, Robert Sherwood, Franklin P. Adams, Heywood Brown, Tallulah Bankhead and Alexander Woolcott.

From these parties emerged almost daily bulletins of the latest Parker wisecracks. In later life Miss Parker claimed that many were fabrications, but the stories persist to this day.

One such: at one party a man followed her around all evening, waiting for her to say something memorable. He finally apologized, saying: "I'm sorry, you're not at all the way I thought you'd be."

"That's all right," replied Miss Parker. "But do me one favor. When you get home, throw your mother a bone."

On another occasion when a woman friend had made an extreme to do about her impending motherhood, Miss Parker cabled the woman after the birth of her child: "Congratulations. Your hours on the 'first day of this war,'" said Col. Yerham, who took command of the captured El Arish airfield.

Once, reviewing a performance of Katharine Hepburn on Broadway, Miss Parker wrote: "She ran the gamut of emotions from A to B."

She coined the couplet: Men seldom make passes At girls who wear glasses

And she took her own advice. Although quite nearsighted, she refrained from wearing her horn-rimmed spectacles in public, preferring to blink her hazel-green eyes.

Charred Tanks, Arms in Wake of Attack

By PAUL KOHN
WITH ISRAELI FORCES IN SINAI (AP) — Israeli armored forces dashing across the Sinai desert left the roads behind them littered with charred tanks, smoldering trucks and huge quantities of boots and booty.

The Israelis had not the time yet to count or even collect the dead from the roadsides and sand dunes.

While the armored columns and the long support columns behind them swung westward along the coastal highway from El Arish and a parallel axis from Abu Agella, the main traffic in the opposite direction was that of scores of trucks filled with prisoners of war.

Overhead the Israeli air force was in command of the Sinai skies, swooping on Egyptian columns without challenge in the air.

"Israel won the war in the air against her enemies in less than six hours on the 'first day of this war,'" said Col. Yerham, who took command of the captured El Arish airfield.

"How," asked a reporter. "Join the Israeli air force and you'll learn how," the colonel replied.

At this airstrip reporters saw six MIGs and one IL14 destroyed on the ground. Today the field was being used mainly for flying wounded to hospitals in the rear.

The time element in this three-day-long war has been a crucial factor.

Local delegates to Girls State were announced by Mrs. Joe Jones, chairman. The Girls, 10 of them, leave Sunday for Camp Robinson, Little Rock, for the 25th annual meet.

Found Guilty of Murder

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Circuit Court jury, composed of three women and nine men, deliberated only six minutes Wednesday before finding Melvin Lee Bell, 18, of College Station, guilty of first degree murder.

The jury fixed punishment at life imprisonment. The state waived the death penalty in the case.

Bell was convicted of the Oct. 4, 1966 murder of Rev. A. J. Jackson, about 88, of College Station, Jackson, a retired Baptist minister, was shot to death at his home.

Mideast War Linked to the Bible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mideast war is a bridge between two worlds, the ancient world and the one we know, for it is linked to both and in a very real sense is like a chapter out of the Bible.

Over 3,300 years ago the wandering Hebrews saw Palestine, called the land of Canaan then, wanted it, fought the Canaanites for it, and conquered them, making it their homeland.

Later under their hero king, David, they subdued the neighboring Philistines, too. Today the Jews have another hero against the enemy, Gen. Moshe Dayan.

Under his leadership in the brief war of 1956 the Israeli smashed through Egypt to the Suez Canal, although they later withdrew.

Now once again in the crisis with Egypt last week Dayan was brought in by popular demand as defense minister and a few days later the war began with the Israelis once more smashing through the Egyptians.

In Dayan's day, as in David's, the basic issue was real estate, the strip of land called Palestine from which the Jews had been dispersed by the Romans about 1,900 years ago.

They had been wanderers until 1948 when, with the blessing of the United Nations, they were allowed once more to call Palestine their home, or at least a part of it, and set up their own government there under the name Israel.

The Arabs have never accepted this intrusion into their particular world of the Middle East with the creation of the Jewish state. Although the Moslem and Jewish religions became a towering factor in the Jewish-Arab relations, it was Palestine itself which remained the central issue.

In this sense the war is a continuation of the past and is not an ideological war like the one in Vietnam where the United States is fighting against Communist domination of the country.

But where the Mideast war touches the modern world is in the possibility — not yet over — that this revival of an ancient war might involve in a global war the two great ideological opponents, the Soviet Union and the United States.

Those two, judging from what they did Tuesday night in the U.N. Security Council, are not eager to let a biblical war suck them into a world war.

Nevertheless, in the decades ahead there will always be this danger, if not in the Bible lands at least everywhere where the interests of the giants meet, a danger that will be multiplied a thousandfold when Red China becomes a full-fledged nuclear force.

And the interests of the giants meet, since both are in a non-shooting war for the mind of mankind, practically everywhere even when the small nations fight for reasons as simple as those of the biblical tribes.

Moscow and the United States, although the former supported Egypt and the latter could hardly let Israel be eliminated, joined in passing a resolution calling on Arabs and Jews to cease firing.

Yet, the solemn, somber day had a touch of unintentional, bizarre comedy by the Arabs who so far have shown themselves inept in this latest war with Israel.

In what looked like an obvious attempt to arouse world opinion, and particularly Soviet feeling, against the United States, the Egyptian high command charged that carrier-based U.S. and British navy planes were fighting in support of Israel.

In Cairo the semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al Ahras said Jordan's King Hussein told Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser by telephone that "U.S. planes hit my house with rockets."

The newspaper said Hussein told Nasser that he himself saw U.S. planes attacking from U.S. aircraft carriers in the Mediterranean off the Israeli coast — but he said he saw all this on radar screens.

How he could tell the blips he saw on the screen were U.S. and British planes is one of the wonders of the Middle East.

WIN AT BRIDGE
The Timid Don't
Win at Bridge

Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One thing that distinguishes a good rubber bridge player is that he is willing to over-bid a trifle on his way to win.

He knows that if you wait for sure things you won't get it often but you aren't going to be a winner.

A match point player would probably drop the bidding on day's hand at two spades.

He would reason that a three spade bid might change his potential plus score to a minus and by passing at two spades he would not get a sally bad match point score even though game could be made.

Tommy Tailor of New York ever plays match points. He reasoned that there might be a good play for four spades and that games don't flow on bushes so he rebid three spades and hoped for the best.

Wingate Bixby who sat
north had already made two trumps with his eight high card points but he liked his hand.
He had four trumps, queen small of Tommy's first bid and confidence in his partner's dummy play.

Actually the play wasn't too tough. Tommy's jack of trumps took care of East's ten trick one and he decided that his best line of play would be to get rid of the opposition's trumps.

He led back a trump. West put up his ace and played a third trump.

Then Tommy went after the club suit. Since it broke 4-2 he had to use dummy's last trump to ruff out West's jack of clubs. This left him with three possible losers in hearts and nothing to do but lead a heart from dummy and hope for the best. East ducked the heart lead and Tommy ducked also. He still had time to play up to his king of hearts again and there was a l a w s the chance that West might make a mistake. West didn't. He shifted to a diamond but Tommy took dummy's ace, led a heart, rose with his king

and scored game and rubber.

CARD SENSE

What do you do now?
A-Just bid four clubs. You are still taking things easy.
